11.00 am – 1.00 pm	Sign-In and Registration
1.00 pm	Welcome and Opening Remarks Rosalinda B. Barrera , Assistant Deputy Secretary Director, Office of English Language Acquisition U. S. Department of Education Joanne Urrutia , Deputy Director Office of English Language Acquisition U.S. Department of Education

2.30 pm	Kiva Session Participants will hear brief responses to a major question on English Learner education from a panel of six presenters randomly selected from the audience. Seated in round tables, participants will engage in small-group conversations based on what they heard and want to discuss. After a few minutes of discussion and reflection, each participant will write his or her own comments and/or questions on index cards, which will be collected and transcribed. This process permits all participants to engage in meaningful dialogue, allows a larger number of perspectives to be included in the conversation, and produces a written document that captures the group's knowledge and perspective on the issues discussed. The afternoon will consist of three rounds of this process including one 15-minute break. Facilitators: Jose Rico, Deputy Director, The White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for Hispanics, U. S. Department of Education Gabriel Sandoval, Senior Counsel, Office for Civil Rights, U.S. Department of Education
